Selected findings

Nearly half (48 percent) of all locally administered jails in the U.S. are in the South (table A).

Jails in the South held 43 percent of the Nation's total jail population on February 15, 1978; of these, 12 percent were being held because of overcrowding elsewhere (tables B and G).

Jail capacity in the South was 44 percent of the total in the Nation and was expected to increase 5.5 percent between 1978 and 1980 (table C).

One-half of the jail beds in the South are in units designed for 5 or more inmates (table D).

The ratio of inmates to total employees (full-time and part-time) in this region was 2.6 to 1; the ratio of inmates to custodial personnel was 5.2 to 1 (table E).

Sixty percent of the jails in the South reported giving inmates a health interview or screening upon admission (table F).

Health assessment for jail admissions

Sixty percent of the jails in the South reported giving inmates a health interview or screening upon admission (Table F). This was consistent with the percentages reported in the North Central region and West but below that reported in the Northeast. Only 3 percent of the jails in the South reported administering a medical physical examination as part of the admission procedure.

Inmates held because of overcrowding

In comparison with the other regions, jails in the South had a large number of inmates (12 percent) held because of overcrowding elsewhere (Table G). Eighty percent of all jail inmates in the country being held because of overcrowding were in the South. Most of such inmates in southern jails (88 percent) were State prisoners who were either awaiting transfer to a State facility when space became available or were being housed under formal agreements with State authorities.

Jail census methodology: Sources and limitations of the data

Coverage

The 1978 National Jail Census covered all locally administered jails in the Nation. In this census, a jail was defined as a confinement facility intended for adults but sometimes holding juveniles that holds persons detained pending adjudication and/or persons committed after adjudication, usually for sentences of a year or less. Specifically excluded from the census were drunk tanks, lock-ups, and similar "holding facilities" that do not hold persons after they have been formally charged. State-operated jail systems in Connecticut, Delaware, Hawaii, Rhode Island, and Vermont were also excluded, as were juvenile institutions, community-based prerelease facilities (halfway houses, work-release or study-release facilities, etc.), hospitals for the criminally insane, treatment facilities for drug addicts and/or alcoholics, and jails located in United States territories.

The mailing list used for the census was derived from the National Justice Agency List, which is maintained by the Census Bureau for the Bureau of Justice Statistics. This list was reviewed against the following sources:

- The 1978 edition of American Correctional Association Directory of Juvenile and Adult Correctional Departments, Institutions, Agencies and Paroling Authorities, and
- The 1978 State Comprehensive Law Enforcement Plans prepared by each State for the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

Survey period

This report reflects jails operating on February 15, 1978. Information on inmate deaths is for calendar 1977.

Data collection

The census was conducted by mail, with an initial mailout of 3,761 questionnaires in February 1978. (The final universe of 3,493 was reached after eliminating facilities that were not in operation on the census reference day or did not meet the criteria for a jail.) Two survey questionnaires were used—a CJ-3 form sent to 651 jails with an average daily inmate population of 50 or more and a CJ-4 form sent to 3,110 jails with an average daily inmate population of less than 50. (The average daily population figure was based on the 1977 Directory Survey of Law Enforcement Agencies and Jails). Nonrespondent jails were sent second mail requests and then mailgrams. Telephone contact was made if necessary. A response rate of 99 percent was achieved. The mail questionnaires used in the census are exhibited in the appendix.

Telephone followup procedures were also used to clarify inadequate and inconsistent census returns.

Limitations

Because a complete census was conducted of all local jails meeting the selection criteria, the data are not subject to sampling error. The data are subject to response error, however. Such error was kept to a minimum through quality control checks. In this regard, it should be noted that for any items on the census questionnaire unobtainable from available records, reasonable estimates were requested.

The data reported in this publication do not reflect changes that have taken place since February 1978.

All data reflect State-by-State variation in legal codes and procedures governing a jail's retention authority and facility-by-facility variation in inmate classification and housing practices. Thus caution is required when making comparisons.

Definitions

Local jail. A confinement facility administered by a unit of local government (county or city) intended for adults but sometimes holding juveniles that holds persons detained pending adjudication and/or persons committed after adjudication, usually for sentences of a year or less. Temporary holding facilities ("lock-ups") that do not hold persons after they have been formally charged in court (usually within 48 hours of arrest) are excluded.

Adult. A person who is within the original jurisdiction of a criminal, rather than a juvenile, court because his or her age at the time of an alleged criminal act was above a statutorily specified limit.

Juvenile. A person subject to the exercise of juvenile court jurisdiction for purposes of adjudication and treatment based on age and offense limitations as defined by State law. Persons above the statutory age limit for juveniles who are being held under special "youth statutes," e.g., "youthful offenders" in California, "adolescents" or "minors" in New York, etc. are classified as adults.

Confinement unit. Any cell, room, dormitory, or other unit where inmates spend the night. Confinement units are further categorized as:

- General purpose units. Units intended to house the general inmate population.

- Special purpose units. Units intended to meet specialized housing needs, e.g., an infirmary, trustee cells, isolation cells, etc. Special purpose units can include both units with beds and those without beds, e.g., "drunk tanks," "bull-pens," etc.

Bed capacity. The number of beds in a jail calculated by multiplying the number of confinement units of each design size (e.g., 1, 2, 3, 4, or 5 or more persons) by its design size and summing the results for all size categories. Includes beds in general purpose units and special purpose units with beds.

Jail employees. All payroll and nonpayroll personnel who work at a jail full-time or part-time.

- Full-time personnel. Personnel who work full-time at the jail.

- Part-time personnel. Personnel who work part-time at the jail including full-time employees who perform other duties in addition to those at the jail. Jail employees are further categorized as:

- Administrative. Chief jailer (or sheriff or chief of police), deputies, and/or assistants who work at the jail in an administrative capacity.

- Custodial officers. Guards, jailers, etc. who supervise the inmate population.

- Clerical and maintenance personnel. Typists, secretaries, janitors, cooks, ground-keepers, etc.

- Service personnel. Teachers, social workers, counselors, psychologists, doctors, and other medical personnel, etc. who provide professional services to the inmates.

- Other. Personnel who can not be classified as one of the above.

- Health interview/screening. An initial assessment of an inmate's health from observation and medically related questions, made at the time of admission.

- Medical physical examination. A health assessment based on medical tests such as taking blood pressure, blood or urine samples, chest x-ray, eye and ear examination, etc.
